

YORKSHIRE

A PORTRAIT IN COLOUR

By Duncan Smith
with photographs by Trevor Croucher

The Yorkshire bestseller now retailing at just £4.95!

- Large format hardback containing 200 timeless colour photos
- In print since 1995 and reprinted three times. Makes a perfect gift!
- Special RRP £4.95 with usual trade discounts applicable
- Published by The Dovecote Press
ISBN-13: 978-1-874336-33-4

Yorkshire has long been known as the ‘most renowned of shires’. Yet despite its size and reputation, books on the county have tended in the past to concentrate on the Dales and the Moors at the expense of the rest. Yorkshire A Portrait in Colour gloriously redresses the balance, offering a photographic portrait of a county whose range of landscapes and rich historical heritage are without equal in England. Neither the Dales nor the North York Moors have been ignored – indeed the photographs of both are magnificent – but there are also mill towns, ports, the great industrial cities, and the small fishing villages scattered down the coast.

Few corners of the county have been forgotten, from the Vales of York and Pickering to the rolling chalk Wolds and the boroughs of South Yorkshire. But there are also people as well as places, bringing plain-speaking down-to-earth Yorkshire vividly to life in more than 200 photographs that reflect its character and history.

“A magnificent book...excellent photographs...elegant and informative text...everyone will find a few surprises here.”

Get your copies while stocks last from The Dovecote Press
www.dovecotepress.com, office@dovecotepress.com

Contact the author Duncan Smith
www.duncanjdsmith.com, contact@duncanjdsmith.com